

Racine Astronomical Society Membership Application

Thanks for your interest in joining the Racine Astronomical Society. Astronomy is an enjoyable hobby for people of all ages. Membership in an astronomy club provides valuable resources to help you get started, as well as adding to the overall experience.

Benefits of Membership

- Join us for member-only nights at the observatory. These are held on 2 or more nights per year and are announced on the events calendar. On clear nights, our members will use personal and club telescopes for observing. On cloudy nights, this is a good opportunity to have questions answered and become familiar with our facilities and other members.
- RAS has beginner telescopes available for use at the observatory and a library with a wide assortment of astronomy books that members can check out.
- The society has 3 star parties each year in spring, summer and fall.
- We host an annual picnic in the summer and Christmas party in December.
- Members vote at quarterly meetings at the Modine Benstead Observatory, including a short meeting at the Christmas party. The annual meeting, with the election of the board of directors is held in January. See our events calendar for dates.
- A one-year membership in the Astronomical League. This includes all the publications that the Astronomical League provides to its members.
- Key-holders have access to society property and equipment for personal use or research in accordance with the policies established by the board or directors. Members who have demonstrated an active interest in astronomy, have volunteered for club events over a one-year period may become eligible for key-holder status. This requires approval of the board of directors. Please speak with the Observatory Director for more details.
